THE Homemaker

By Bertha M. McCutcheon
District Home Economist, Westlock

Every day during July, especially July 22 - 28 which is our national salad week, is a "salad day." At this time of the year we have luscious fruits from sunny climates, crisp vegetables from our own gardens, and waning appetites due to the warm weather; three good reassons to make and serve our families salads often.

B. McCutcheon

Salads usually contain fresh fruits and vegetables which are good sources of vitamins and minerals.

Raw tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, strawberries and most fruits contribute Vitamin C which is very necessary to maintain healthy body tissues. Practically all Vitamin C must come from raw fruits and vegetables as cooking destroys this important food nutrient.

To stay peppy and alert your blood needs iron and an excellent supply is available in green leafy vegetables. Use tender spinach along with cabbage, parsley, lettuce, endive, for variety salad greens.

Sometimes we think all our supply of calcium comes from milk and cheese. This is not true, as green leafy vegetables supply small amounts of calcium in our diet.

The B Vitamins, especially thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, are very necessary for general good health and resistance to disease, Green leafy vegetables and tomatoes are important sources of these vitamins.

Salads containing carrots, eggs, fish, or green vegetables will contribute important amounts of Vitamin A to your daily diet.

Double Quick Salad: This mayonnaise with chili sauce — add some crumbled nippy cheese and serve this delicious dressing on lettuce wedges for a quick salad.

Tomato Appetizer Salad: Peel, chill and cut fresh whole tomatoes through bottom and almost to stem end. Open cut petals and pile with cottage cheese mixed with green onion and mayonnaise. Garnish with parsley and serve on crisp salad greens.

Company Salad: A crunchy pretty salad for a company lunch. Peel bright red tomatoes, cut in sections to open out petalwise, and fill with salmon chunks, diced cucumber and cooked new peas mixed with mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Formal Fare: Bright as a summer day. Mold pitted canned white cherries and canned apricot halves in lemon flavored gelatine, chill and serve with mayonnaise containing shredded cheese.

First Course: Mix watermelon and cantalope cubes. Serve in a pretty glass bowl lined with green lettuce and garnish with sprigs of watercrest.

Jiffy Salad: Form a lettuce cap on salad plate. Place on this a well drained pineapple ring. Pile cottage cheese in centre of ring and top with maraschino cherry for extra color.

Tropical Banana: Add a little lemon juice to mayonnaise. Then roll the banana in the mayonnaise, and in chopped walnuts. Arrange big, perfect sections of juicy grapefruit on each side The leaves can be crisp salad green.

Cheese Topping: Roll balls of cream cheese in slivered toasted almonds, chopped pecans, or toasted cocoanut for a fruit salad topping.

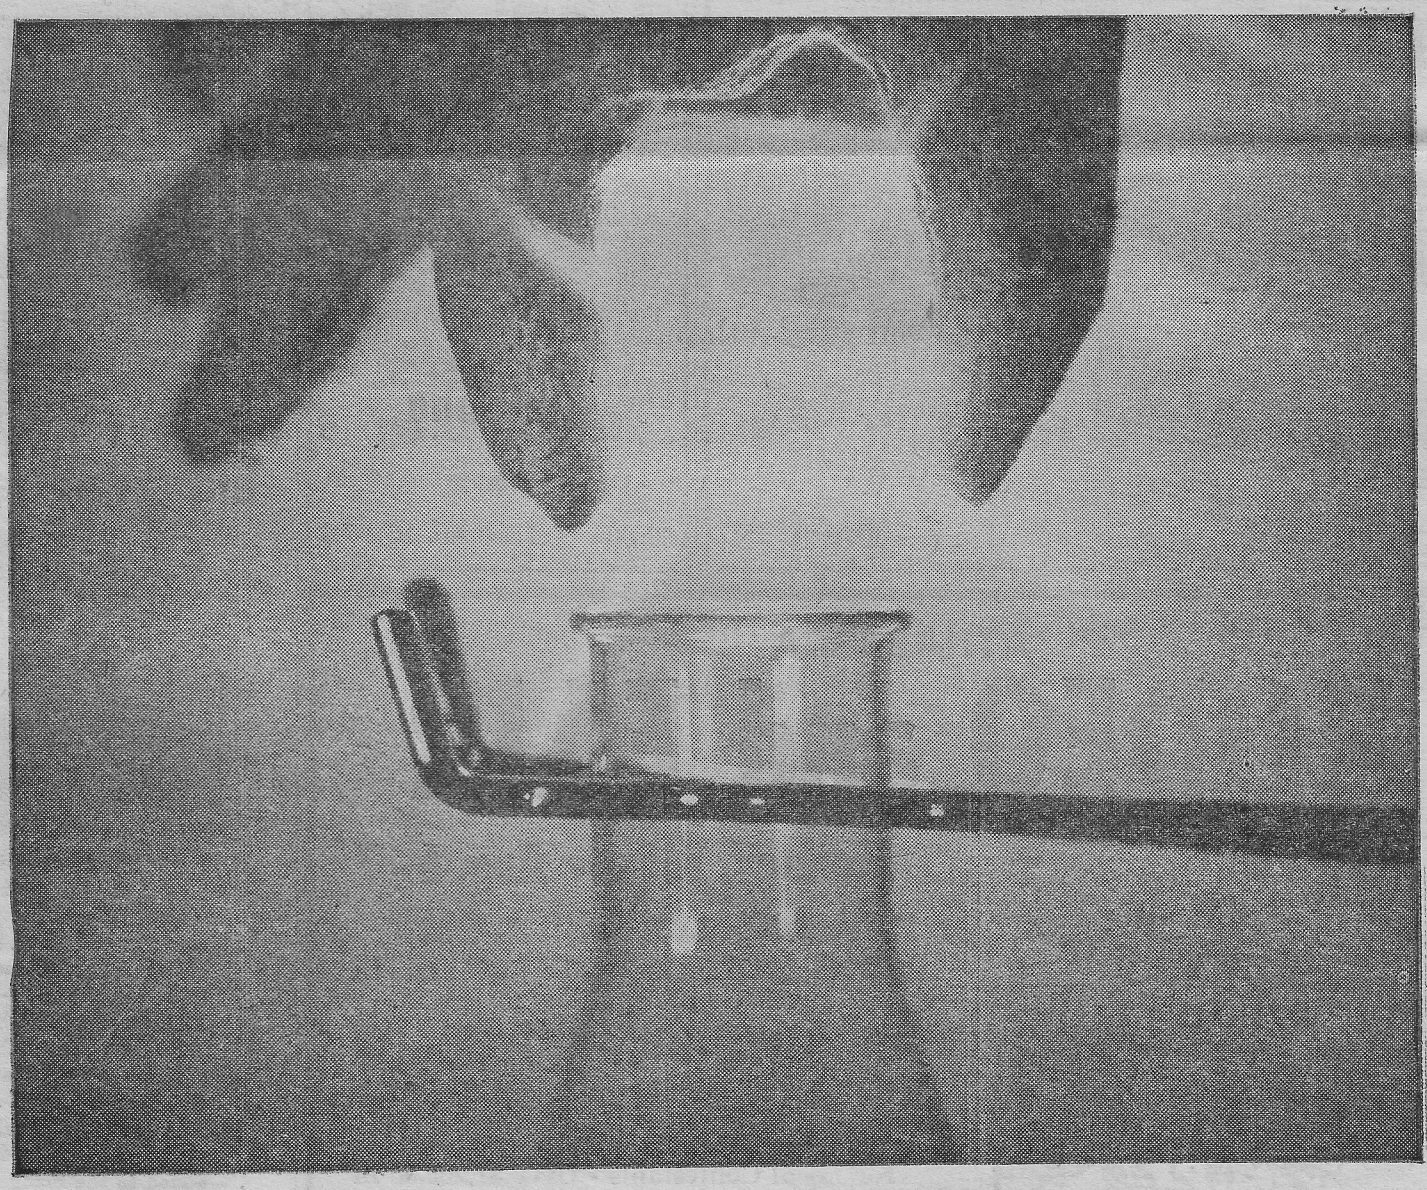
90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

At Imperial Oil's laboratories at Sarnia, Ontario, more than 200 scientists and technicians are working to improve present petroleum products—and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. Another 130 scientists and technicians are working at Imperial's Calgary laboratories on ways to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.



Every barrel of crude oil contains some of the sun's heat. Imperial research works to unlock more of this energy. After five years' intensive research, Imperial found a chemical additive which makes more heating oil available from Canadian crude oil. One important result: less oil imported to heat Canadian homes.

M. MACCAGNO, Mayor.

Will he leave us on the ground?

The space race is one thing. But let's not forget. It's just part of a far greater competition!

Today, we're engaged in an all-out economic race that pits our system—motivated by the demand of a whole people, against a "planned" system—set in motion by the "I demand" of one man, supported by a single ruthless clique!

If we win this race, we can go on, not only to higher living standards for ourselves, but to the practical elimination of poverty (and its dangers to civilization) from any area of the world!

Fortunately, we have the production skills needed to win this contest. But a great question remains. Can a free people provide the all-important demand that makes the sales, that encourages the investment, that stimulates still greater production, for both public and private use!?

An advertising agency's job is to help answer that question in the superlative affirmative! What an exciting, demanding, challenging time to be engaged in advertising!!!
